EDISON'S MASTERPIECE

In 1878 Mr. Edison invented and parented the first Disc phonograph. This information may come as a surprise to many, for not until now has the great master permitted a disc phonograph to be offered to the public in his name. The new Edison phonograph, therefore, represents the culmination of thirtyfive years of endeavor to perfectly reproduce sound and to climinate the objectionable features of other machines.

SOME POINTS OF SUPERIORITY Not found in any other machine

Not long ago a certain musician of note, after examining and listening to the new Edison phonograph, exclaimed: "You do not know what you have. You call it the greatest phonograph in the world. Yes, it is that; but it is more; it is the greatest musical instrument in the world. It means more to music than anything that has ever happened before." Here are some of the advantages that caused the musician to make that remark:

Edison Diamond Point Reproducers

Supplant the steel or fiber needles of other make machines. The reproducer point, being a genuine diamond, highly polished by a perfect surface, neither wears the record nor is worn itself. The playing of an Edison record requires no changing of needles, and the record itself remains unimpaired, however often it is played. All scratchy noises, so common to talking machines, are eliminated.

Edison Indestructible Records

Are made of a material new in chemistry and of so great hardness as to permit the reproduction of the myriad of faint overtones which alone give quality to music. A ten-inch Edison Record will play five minutes, which is longer than most twelve-inch records of other makes.

It matters not how often you use the new Edison records, the sound waves engraved thereon can never be effaced nor distorted.
